If you're looking for a laid-back, artsy section of Music City, look no further than East Nashville. This historic neighborhood is a hub of arts, local music, and award-winning dining. The east side is just across the river from downtown, and it's the perfect place to find local music, boutique shopping, and incredible food. In east Nashville, you'll find an emerging, diverse neighborhood where the tables are full of locals instead of other travelers. Here's what you should do, eat, and drink in Nashville's coolest neighborhood.
